Scratch leslie orgel from my list. I just found out that he passed away recently, which is a terrible shock to me. I have known him very well for years, as Francis Crick and Max and Manny Delbrück introduced me to him back in the early 80s, and we became close friends. He, Sydney Brenner, Francis Crick, and others once surprised me with a very nice surprise dinner in my honor in San Diego a few years back. He was a great guy, very interesting to discuss origins of life with (one of my personal interests).

Jeff,

I am very reluctant to do any more "pseudo" interviews. As you say, it is my voice, not yours. Now, I do know that you are excellent at asking interesting, penetrating questions. So, how about this.... I will conduct the interviews on your behalf, but you supply the questions. I need no less than 15 questions from each subject. Please put the questions in a form that is accessible. I would like to conduct interviews with the following individuals, are personal friends, and will easily grant me the time, if I ask. this is a start. Obviously, my list goes on, but these would be interesting interviews. Can you do this?

Kip Thorne
John Schwartz
Michael Douglas
Frances Arnold (I would like to put this back into your voice)
Christof Koch
Patrick Cavanagh (vision scientist you met at Harvard)
Ramachandran
Craig Ventor
Stephen Wolfram
Pablos Holman
Joe Kirschvink (geologist)
Robert Gellespie (leading expert on population)
Murray Gell-Mann

Ed Witten
John Conway
Persi Diaconis
Jim Watson
Leslie Orgel (origins of life)
Len Mlodonow (Caltech physicist, writes Hawking's books)
Terry Sejnowski
Sean Carroll
Daniel Kraft (leading guy on stem cells)
Catherine Mohr (leading specialist on minimally invasive surgery)

Lisa Randall
Sheldon Glashow
Freeman Dyson
