well now that i am a YGL both the foundation and the WEF want for me to at least have a wikipedia page on me (bio?) and do some other basic media. i'd like to be able to control the message and story about myself. i am quirky but the legitimate things in my life i have worked very hard for and want to resist the temptation people might have to get side tracked. do you think i should hire some professional image type folks to help me write my bio and figure out how to tell the story of "me"?

i do want to write that neuro blook of cool brain pictures in the next 12 months so perhaps good to even have a presence now. who knows.

what do you think? right now there is NOTHING out there about me, and I have tried hard to keep it that way.
